

PLANS ARRANGED FOR PRESIDENT'S ARLINGTON TRIP

Rough Rider Monument
Dedication Today
at 4.30.

President will leave White House at 3:30 p. m.
Arrives at Fort Myer about 4:10, where he will pick up his military escort.
Speaks at the Rough Rider monument at 4:30.
Leaves Arlington at 5:15 p. m.
Returns to White House at 6 p. m.

The above, in brief, is the itinerary laid out for President Roosevelt today, when he makes his trip to Arlington for the purpose of paying a tribute to his dead comrades of the First United States Volunteer Cavalry.

The President's journey to Arlington from the White House will be made with little display. In the carriage with him will be Gen. H. B. M. Young and his military aide, Capt. McCoy. A couple of bicycle policemen will follow his carriage to Fort Myer. At the military post a troop of cavalry will form a guard of honor about his carriage, and will accompany him into the cemetery and to the dark marble shaft where the ceremonies are to be held.

Mrs. Allyn Capron's Efforts.

The magnificent monument which has been erected represents the work of the Rough Riders' National Monument Association. Mrs. Allyn K. Capron is president of the executive committee, which has borne the burden of the work of raising the necessary funds. Her husband, Capt. Capron, of K troop, was the first American army officer to fall in the Spanish war.

Upon the assembling of the President and the representatives specially invited within the inclosure erected beside the monument for the occasion, the ceremonies will be opened by the Rev. H. A. Brown, the post chaplain at Fort Myer, who was the chaplain of the Rough Riders. He will pronounce the invocation. This will be followed by an address by the President, who was at first lieutenant colonel and later became colonel of the regiment.

Father Stafford's Oration.

The memorial oration will be delivered by the Rev. D. J. Stafford, rector of St. Patrick's Catholic Church. Music will be provided by the Thirteenth Cavalry Band, from Fort Myer; the Engineers Band, from Washington Barracks, and the substitute division of the Marine Barracks, that remains at the machine barracks. The Engineers Band will be in the Presidential escort.

While admission to the grand stand will be by card, the general public will be admitted for the ceremonies.

FIND TEACHER DEAD; SUICIDE BY POISON

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 12.—The dead body of Miss Jessie Ball, a teacher in the State deaf and dumb school at Morgantown, N. C., was found by searching parties in the woods near the institution. Miss Ball had committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid. She disappeared from the school during the afternoon, and, not returning at night, searching parties were at once organized.

Miss Ball was from Detroit, Mich., and was thirty-five years old. She was highly esteemed by her associates in the institution. For a number of days she had been despondent, and it is said she had more than once threatened to destroy herself.

MRS. CELIA M. REED TO BE BURIED TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Celia M. Reed, who died yesterday afternoon in her apartments in the Mendota, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Crabtree, assistant rector of St. Margaret's Episcopal Church. Interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Reed, who was sixty years old, was the wife of Albert M. Reed, president of the Security Storage Company, of Washington. She was a native of Washington.

RHEUMATISM AN ACID BLOOD POISON

Rheumatism is an acid blood poison, and the causes that produce it are often silently accumulating in the system for years. Poor digestion, stomach troubles, weak kidneys, torpid liver, and a general inactive condition of the system leaves the refuse and waste matter, which should be carried off, to sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. When the blood is in this acid-charged condition, it deposits the poisons and irritating particles with which it is loaded in the muscles, nerves, joints and bones. Then Rheumatism gets possession of the system, and life is made miserable by its pains, aches and discomforts. The changing of the weather, exposure to cold and dampness, etc., always increase the trouble, and so severe does the pain become that quick relief must be had. A good liniment or plaster is often helpful, but it should be remembered that relief from such treatment is only temporary, because the trouble is in the blood and cannot be removed by external applications. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by ridding the blood of the cause. It goes down into the circulation and by invigorating and purifying the blood of the acid-poison and sending a stream of fresh, rich blood to all parts, relieves the pain, reduces the inflammation, and permanently cures this painful disease. S. S. S. is the only safe treatment for Rheumatism, because it does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to damage the system. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice desired sent free.

D. O. MILLS RESIGNS FROM SOUTHERN PACIFIC

NEW YORK, April 12.—The first meeting of the new board of directors of the Southern Pacific Company was held yesterday, at which E. H. Harriman was re-elected president. All the other officers, also, were retained. The executive committee remains constituted as heretofore. W. Bayard Cutting was chosen as a director to succeed Darius O. Mills, resigned.

Mr. Mills is eighty-one years old, and as he lately has withdrawn from a number of directorships, no special significance is attached to his action. It is his desire to be relieved as much as possible from official duties of this nature. His son, Ogden Mills, remains on the Southern Pacific board. Mr. Cutting, who succeeds him, is a director of the American Exchange National Bank and the Commercial Union Insurance Company, and is a member of the United States Trust Company.

Mr. Mills also resigned from the directorate of the Erie yesterday, and recently left the board of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. There are, however, twenty or more corporations in which he is assisting in directing, including the Mergenthaler Linotype Company, in which he has long been a prominent factor.

PRESIDENT BONILLA HAS SURRENDERED

Zelaya Plans Uprisings in Guatemala and Salvador.

NEW ORLEANS, April 12.—A cablegram has been received here from President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, at Managua, the capital, saying that President Bonilla, of Honduras, had surrendered at Amapala, where he and his army have been besieged.

Revolutions in both Salvador and Guatemala in the immediate future are predicted by travelers from Central America who have just arrived. The revolutionaries, they say, are being instigated by President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, who has just defeated Honduras in their brief war. Zelaya is said to have promised armed assistance to the revolutionaries and it is predicted the uprisings will seriously threaten the ruling powers of the two countries.

A conference held at Corinto, which Zelaya is supposed to have attended, is said to have selected Dr. Prudencio Alfaro, of Salvador, and Gen. Salvador Toledo, of Guatemala, to lead the revolution.

By overthrowing the Presidents of Salvador and Guatemala and establishing his revolutionary allies in their places, Zelaya hopes to accomplish his ambition to establish a Central American confederacy, of which Nicaragua will be the head.

RAILWAYS CAN'T CHOOSE MARKETS FOR SELLERS

The Interstate Commerce Commission, in a significant decision under the new law, has held in an Oklahoma case that railroads cannot make rates with the view to determining in what markets particular communities shall do their business. The case was the Texas Cement Plaster Company vs. the Frisco railroad, and it was alleged that rates were so adjusted as to give certain markets to industries at one point, and in the opinion Commissioner Prosser holds "that a railroad cannot arbitrarily determine that a particular mill shall complete its business with other localities and that other mills on its lines shall not so compete."

Accordingly, the petitioner is granted a readjustment of rates.

MODERN SCIENCE VERSUS SCRIPTURE

Raymond L. Burke Writes of Religious Illiterates.

To the Editor of The Washington Times: We see a great deal in print in these modern times about science versus the teachings of the Scriptures, and the claim of infidelity is that science disproves the Mosaic account of creation, and the miracles of the Old and New Testaments.

With the blatant criticisms of infidelity, and false science, such is the case, but true science proves the integrity of the Scriptures and opens up a realm of compatible thought and study that is deeply instructive to the believer.

There is, unfortunately, in the religious world, an illiterate class which opposes the study of science in connection with the Bible, as evidence of lack of faith. All intellectuality and aspiration for knowledge is tabooed as a kind of religious infidelity. Such mental dwarfs are content to sit in intellectual coma and lethargy, and sleep out their mental existence here without even a passing thought.

With the intellectual believer, however, it is different. He finds in science a valuable correlative of religion; sees a beautiful correspondence, and studies the former because it substantiates the latter. So we see true science is not only not antagonistic to religion, but is a valuable proof of its accuracy and truth.

Thus the astrologers of the East saw in yonder luminous orb the harbinger of hope, the effulgent glory of redemption, and they found their Mecca with the simple, unlearned shepherds in the manger of Bethlehem.

There is possibly no field of study more substantially edifying than what I might term psychological science. The innate consciousness of man predicates an unseen spiritual realm, and the nearness of that realm to the natural.

The theory of modern thought is, "If a man die, shall he live again?" The Bible says yes. Science says yes, and man responds to an inexplicable soul-longing with, because he is conscious that the merely physical and natural are not the real and eternal, but the spiritual and unseen are.
